

Activity Report 2016

Taekwondo Humanitarian Foundation

Introduction

Generated by a strong sense of responsibility among taekwondo family of the World Taekwondo Federation and its members from around the globe, hands of volunteers gathered together to empower refugees through taekwondo.

It started as a dream that belonged to Dr. Chungwon Choue who shared it with a group of volunteers that established THF, the Taekwondo Humanitarian Foundation. In less than a year, THF was on the ground in Nepal with an earthquake relief program, in Jordan with a taekwondo academy in Azraq refugee camp for Syrian refugees and sponsoring an impaired refugee taekwondo athlete.

In 2016, THF was present in key taekwondo events and championships with awareness campaigns in its launching phase, and was introduced to global leaders notably at the UN and in Vatican. In addition, THF had its eyes always set on the future, its new projects, goals and challenges.

Background

There are about 20 million refugees in camps throughout the world. This figure does not include those internally displaced inside their own nations, nor those seeking asylum. According to the UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), one in every 122 of our fellow humans is now a refugee, internally displaced, or seeking asylum. Half of the world's refugees are children.

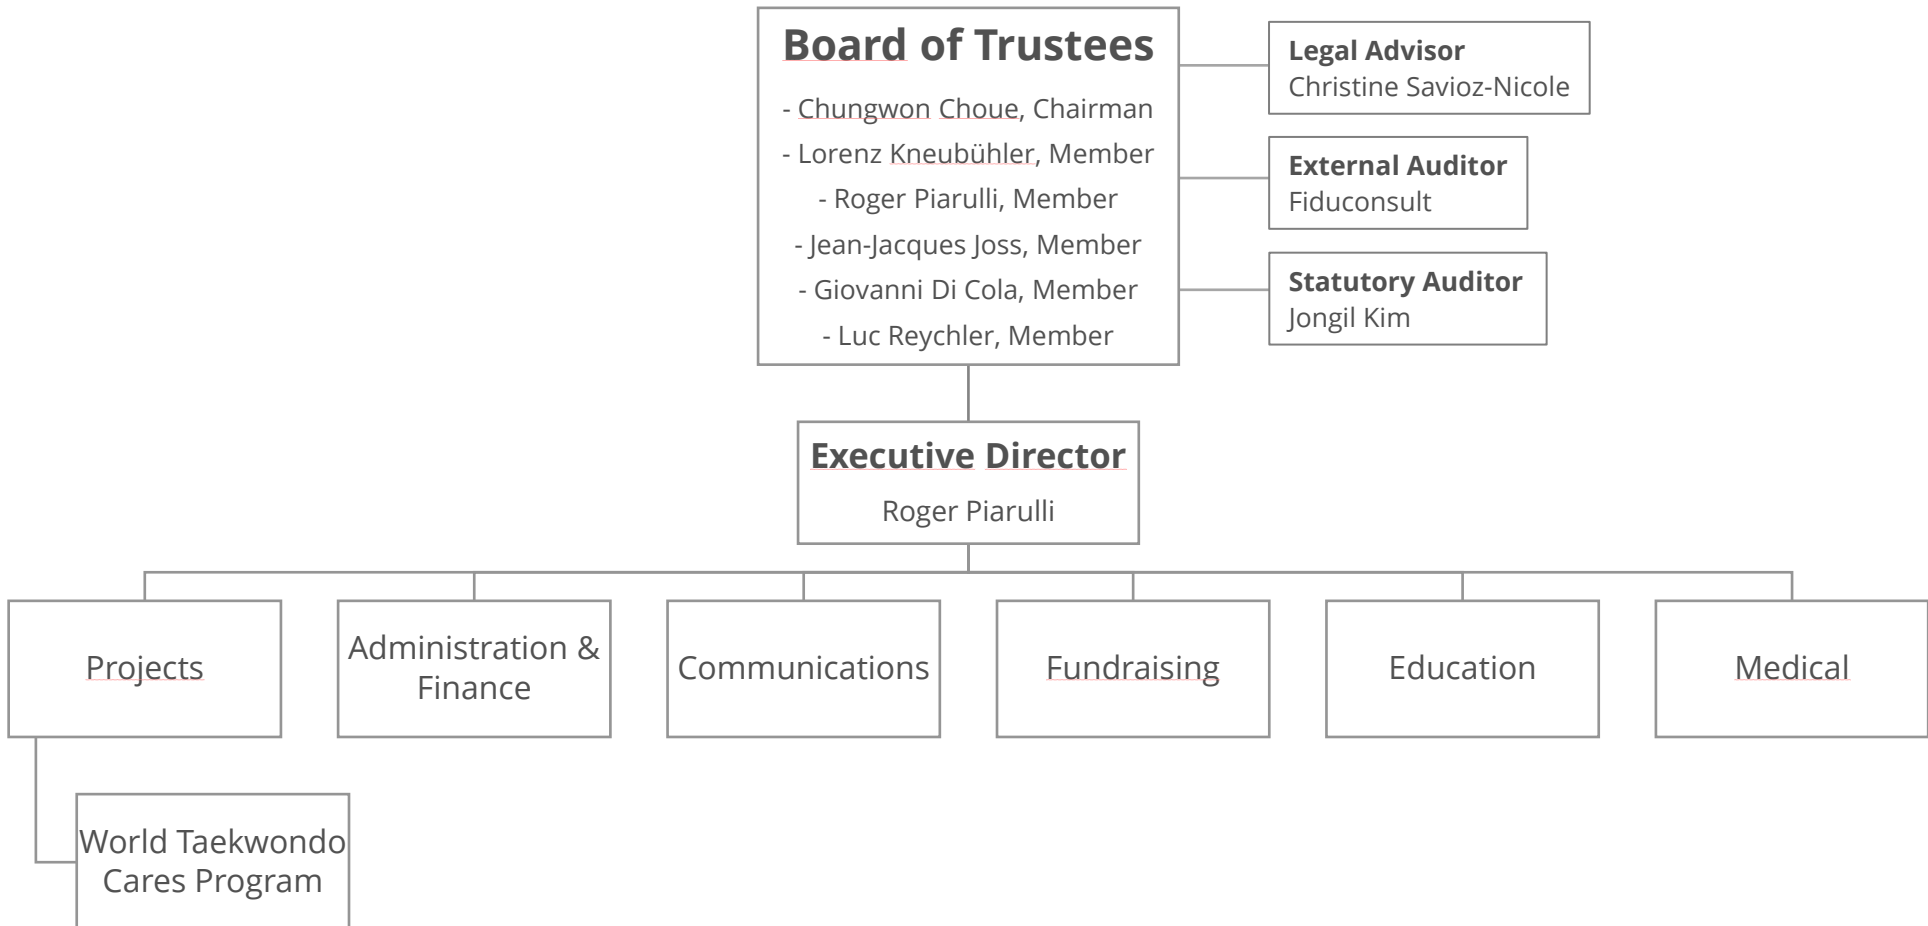

The World Taekwondo Federation, which administers the Olympic sport globally, has helped establish the Taekwondo Humanitarian Foundation (THF) in April 2016 in Lausanne, Switzerland. Its mandate is to spread the teachings of taekwondo to refugees worldwide, bringing the benefits of fitness, sport, self-defence, self-belief, and self-esteem to those who need it most. Taekwondo is an economical, easily deployed deliverable that can help raise the quality of life for refugees in camps worldwide, both children and adults. It is also a practical mean of integration for practitioners arriving in a new country.

Organisation

The Taekwondo Humanitarian Foundation is recognised by the Swiss Federal Department of Home Affairs as non-profit foundation under Swiss Law (Civil Code, Art. 80 ff). It was founded in Lausanne, Switzerland on April 15, 2016.

The purpose of the Foundation is to help displaced persons and refugees by using taekwondo and sports, along with related educational activities as tools for empowerment, education to global citizenship and well-being.

The organisation of the THF is composed by the Board of Trustees, an Executive Director and specialised departments. The World Taekwondo Federation's involvement within the Foundation's affairs goes through its World Taekwondo Cares Program, which is an operating partner of the Foundation in its projects.

Organisation structure of the Taekwondo Humanitarian Foundation

The World Taekwondo Federation granted an initial capital of CHF 50'000, paid in the form of capital contribution.

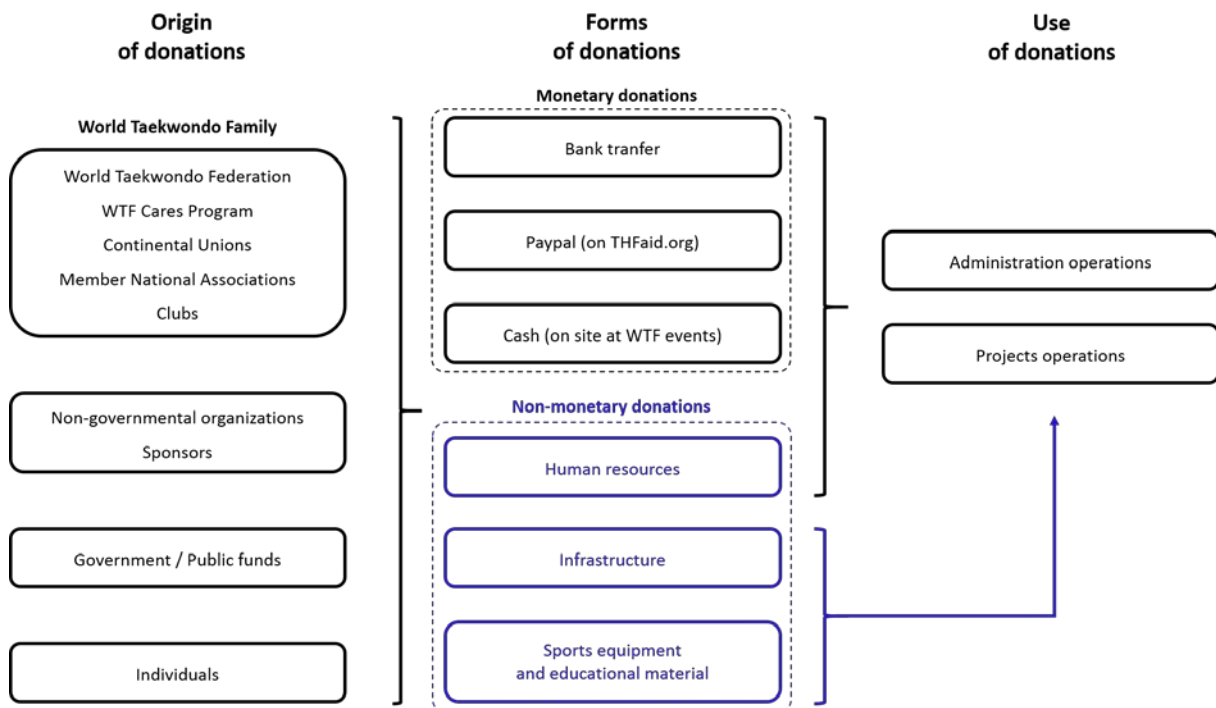

The foundation capital may be increased at any time with contributions made by:

- The World Taekwondo Family (WTF, continental federations, national associations, clubs)
- Private sponsors and NGOs
- Governments and public funds
- Individual donors

Donations to THF may consist of monetary or in-kind contributions. Monetary donations can be paid to the THF by bank transfer, via its donation platform on the THF website, or alternatively in cash, at the THF office in Lausanne or on-site at different WTF events. In-kind contributions can be done, for example, in the form of donations of new or second-hand equipment, the construction of real estate or of the patronage of human resources.

The funds received are allocated to the projects, communications, fundraising and administrative operations as needed. All efforts are made to keep administrative costs at the lowest in order to allocate a maximum of funds to running activities and the development of future projects.

Donors may demand that the use of their funds be used only for a particular project or part thereof. In case of donations made without specific instructions, the funds may be allocated by the THF to the type of spending currently needed to insure good running of the operations.

Projects

Taekwondo Academies

Under the guidance of the UNHCR, THF runs projects bringing taekwondo trainings and related educational activities to persons living in refugee camps where international and local instructors are dispatched on yearly missions. These projects are designed to guarantee a long-term presence, with the building of academies accessible to all for diverse activities.

Punctual Assistance Programs

In cooperation with National Taekwondo Federations, THF offers short-term recurring instructor training programs, where high-level taekwondo instructors get to acquire the necessary knowledge to train displaced population in chosen areas.

Refugee Athlete Career Support

THF supports refugee athletes with potential to help them evolve in the sport at elite level. The first THF-sponsored refugee is Austria-based Para-Athlete Hadi Hassanzada.

Support for spontaneous local projects

A number of Taekwondo Family members around the world have initiated spontaneous projects to help refugees getting integrated in local cultures. The refugees addressed to by this kind of projects may be children, women or any adult or impaired person in refugee-like situation depending on the initiator's targets. If the individual or club requires it, and complies with the THF guidelines and vision, the THF may send support in form of technical or financial assistance, know-how or equipment.

What was done so far

Nepal, phase 1

Punctual Assistance Program

After the devastating earthquake hitting Nepal in 2015, THF took the initiative to empower children through taekwondo, giving them hope and the spirit to rise again.

In early 2016, seminars and trainings were given to senior local instructors and children in 3 earthquake-hit areas. Almost 400 children were trained and equipped with taekwondo gear. The regions of Sindhupalchowk, Khadichaur, Pipaldada, Yamunadada, Ramechhap, Tatopani, Barabishe, Jiri and Manthali benefited from the THF actions.

THF does not want to stop there – THF is now studying to repeat the experience with other earthquake affected districts in 2017.

Taekwondo Academy

Some of the most heart-warming success stories of how a sport can wipe tears off traumatised children and turn their lives around in so many different ways, are found in THF taekwondo academy in Azraq camp in Jordan.

You will find boys and girls stop dropping out from school so not to miss their taekwondo class. You will find teenagers finding a role model in their coach after losing their parents in the war. You will find children finding something to belong to and wish upon, after being forced out of their homeland.

We will not celebrate and brag about the facilities THF established there, nor mention the successful trainings, belt tests and growing enrolment day after day. In this issue, the THF team will only share its gratitude that we were part of this project.

Get ready to hear more and more about this project next year: we are going to build our own training facility in the camp in the first trimester of 2017, which will allow us to train more children and diversify our activities!

Hadi Hassanzada, born in Afghanistan in the early 90s, lost his right arm in an attack that bombed his home. Fleeing the conflict, he left alone, on foot, his parents' home and headed west in search for peace and freedom. It took Hadi over one year to reach Austria: after a long wait in Turkey, he found hope in Vienna.

After joining a local football team, his coach noticed that Hadi had unusual physical abilities and asked a para taekwondo coach to introduce him to this sport and to train him further. He successfully progressed and, with the support of the Austrian Taekwondo Federation, the Booyoung Group, Daedo and the THF, he finally competed at the Para Taekwondo European Championships in September 2016.

The THF continues to support Hadi in his quest to compete in the Tokyo 2020 Paralympics.

Upcoming

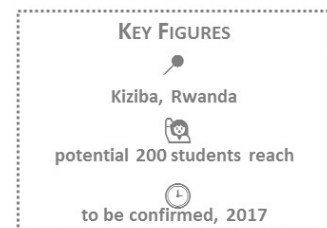

Nepal – phase 2 Punctual Assistance Program

After the success of phase 1 in Nepal, a second mission is being prepared which will bring know-how and equipment to the districts of Gorkha and Nuwakot. Gorkha district has been given priority in the 2nd phase training program as it is an epicenter of the April 25th 2015 earthquake. And Nuwakot is also one of the badly earthquake affected area. Taekwondo uniforms and shoes will be brought to young displaced taekwondo students who will demonstrate the taekwondo techniques they have learnt. Like in phase 1, local instructors will be trained and, in turn, spread their knowledge to children back in their districts.

Kiziba & Kigali, Rwanda Taekwondo Academies

The main project of the THF for 2017 will be the launch of activities in Rwanda. First of all a visit to Kiziba Camp to Introduce taekwondo through demonstrations and educate about the benefit of taekwondo training will be organised. Break Boards, Change Lives

Launched in November 2016 at the World Taekwondo Junior Championships in Burnaby (CAN), the THF Challenge ‘Break Boards, Change Lives’ took over the world taekwondo family. By one taekwondo tradition and core moves, taekwondo aficionados from all over the world showed their support and aid to refugees. Donors weren't just breaking boards with their fists and kicks; they jointly broke all despair and chains stopping refugee children from dreaming of a better tomorrow.

How can anyone take part? It’s easy! All you need is a board to break, a video camera or smartphone to film the break, an Internet connection to upload your clip, and some money to donate to the THF.

The aim of this action is to get as many people involved in the cause of the THF in a different, fun way.
